THE BULL'S EYE

VOLUME XLIX. SUNDAY, JULY 23, 1893—TWENTY-EIGHT PAGES. PRICE [illegible]

UNPARALLELED!!!

IN THE REAL ESTATE HISTORY OF CHICAGO

HAS BEEN THE SUCCESS

GROSSDALE,

THE NEW CITY ON THE C., B. & Q. R. R., LOCATED BY S. E. GROSS.

LOTS $100 and UPWARDS.

THE REASON WHY?

GROSSDALE

IS TODAY

THE ENVY AND ADMIRATION OF WORLD-BE CITY BUILDERS; THE JOY, PRIDE, AND PROFIT OF THE PEOPLE.

HER LOCATION,
NATURAL BEAUTY,
AND IMPROVEMENTS,
ALL OF WHICH ASSURE PURCHASERS OF LOTS

The Pleasures of a Suburban Home

WITH ALL THE

Conveniences of City Life,

AT VERY LITTLE COST.

Grossdale is located on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, west of and adjoining Riverside, 40 minutes' ride from the Union Depot, corner of Canal and Adams-sts.

The property is high and dry, and the location on the west bar a beautifully wooded portion which, under existing circumstances, must always remain beautiful and desirable. Grossdale contains within its limits a number of natural groves, affords excellent drainage, being 10 feet higher than the property on the immediate east, and has a perfect system of water works. A handsome Hall and Opera building has been erected at a cost of $50,000. A Park will also be added, now already laid out, containing about three hundred forest trees; otherwise the land appears to still retain those graceful features of which it is so lavishly supplied. Five income-producing buildings, varying in cost from $5,000 to $10,000, are now completed, and others are rapidly being added. Grand Boulevard to be macadamized as soon as possible, and also to be bordered with shade trees. Sidewalks and crossings, etc., are going on rapidly. Many improvements and arrangements will be made during the present month. Money now offered to erect a home at prices which will please you.

Free Excursion Saturday, July 27th, at 2:30 p.m.

TICKETS can be had FREE upon application at our Main Office, or at depot prior to departure of train.

SCENE AT THE GREAT CEREMONIAL NOW AT THE STANDING ARROWS.

Spectacular Encampment on Some Points from Old Dispatch Letters—Some of the Notable Men in Tribal Harness—The Common Wealthy Belonged at the Cheyenne River Agency—A Sad Lot of Soldiers Gone Many Years—Non-Combatants Subscribe.

The Sioux Commission is endeavoring to negotiate for the purchase of 3,000,000 acres of land ceded to Uncle Sam. The Commissioners propose to pay the Indians $1.25 per acre for all land taken up to settlers for-ing the first three years and $1 per acre for the remainder. It costs just $1.25 for the Government to survey the land, leaving just $1 more per acre for all the 3,000,000 acres that is left. There are about 25,000 Sioux Indians, and they receive a payment averaging an acre of $1,000,000 acres. By the provisions of the treaty made between the United States and the Indians a majority of the Indians must be secured to a vote of three-fourths of all the Indians over 21 years of age.

The Commissioners, of which Gen. Crook is the most prominent member, have succeeded in securing the assent of the chiefs of the various tribes, and have now started on a journey to the different agencies to endeavor to secure the votes. Some opposition has been developed, and it is feared that the Indians will demand a higher price than the Government is willing to pay. The Commissioners have left Chicago, and will visit the Sioux Agencies in Dakota, Nebraska and Montana. The Commissioners have been accompanied by a number of newspaper men, and there is no reason to doubt that the Indians will be treated with the greatest consideration. Every newspaper man has been furnished with a pass over the Northern Pacific Railroad to the Standing Arrows Agency, on the Cheyenne River, in North Dakota, and there I met the Commissioners and the newspaper men who had been with them.

The Standing Arrows Agency is the most picturesque of the Sioux Agencies, and is the one which is most frequently visited by tourists. It is situated on the Cheyenne River, about 100 miles from the Missouri River, and is reached by a branch road of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which runs from Mandan, on the Missouri River, to Pierre, on the Missouri River, and thence to Rapid City, in the Black Hills. The Standing Arrows Agency is about 100 miles from Pierre, and the journey is made by stage. The road is a good one, and the ride is a most delightful one. The country is rolling prairie, with occasional bluffs, and is covered with a luxuriant growth of grass. Many antelope have to be killed, and occasionally a herd of buffalo is seen in the distance. The Indians are very fond of the chase, and there is no more exciting sport than to see a party of Indians on their ponies, armed with bows and arrows, chasing a herd of buffalo. The Indians are very expert in the use of the bow and arrow, and can kill a buffalo at full speed with a single arrow. The Indians are very fond of horses, and the Government has been compelled to issue an order forbidding the Indians to kill their horses for food. The Indians are very fond of horse meat, and when they are hungry they will kill a horse and eat it. GRAND DEMOCRATIC MOVE OF THE "CROAT" GANG OF CITY.

Although the Bills Are Dead No Matter How Some Succeed in Jockeying Them, the People to Frame the Ballot—A Strong Effort Will Be Made to Secure an Almost Secret Session in the Court of Cells.

Through various wiles of opposition have been kept in the Circuit and Supreme Courts according to statutes the Chicago city officials controlling under the schools of the several districts, and to secure two more members of the Board of Education, and more especially to secure the election of Superintendent Cooley and Treasurer Gallagher, the Democratic city committee, with Mayor Cregier at its head, has resolved to make a desperate effort to secure the passage of the Bills now pending in the Legislature, which will place the Board of Education in the hands of the Democrats. AND WILL FIGHT HER HUSBAND AND HIS DETECTIVES TO THE LAST.

The Chicago Lottery Dazzles With Sentences and Asked Pardon—The Application to Be Sent to Governor Hogg—Two Fires—A Fire in Dale—Fire Took Current Gossip and Some Chicken Coops in Detroit.

New York, July 26.—[Special.]—"They have declared war against me, and they shall have war!" The speaker was Mrs. Harriet Ellicott Ayer. She was Senator of the ladies, and was complained but words of severe accusation with which to express her views. The "they" referred to James B. Ayer and his son, Ed. Ayer's wife-to-be. Richard C. Ayer, the eldest brother, and Charles Wise Ayer, a cousin, by the way, of the Ayer of the Ayer Building, No. 10 Park Place, were also the objects of reference to.

During the passenger who called on the Ayers yesterday was Herbert C. Ayer. To those familiar with the recent happenings in the Ayer family this does not need explanation. It is to announcement that soon after Mrs. Ayer made the fight against the Governor for the control of the Governor took her husband, from whom she has obtained a divorce several years since, upon application of the Chicago courts for a modification of the decree so as to permit the custody of the youngest child, Harriet. By the decree was awarded Mrs. Ayer, and she was also given an allowance of $1,000 a month for the support of the child. Mr. Ayer, on the contrary, asserted that he was an improper person to have charge of the child. He accused her of being a victim of the doctrine of Mrs. Victoria Woodhull, the woman suffrage agitator, with whom she was said to be on intimate terms. Mrs. Ayer denied the accusation, which was given to an inquisitive reporter by Herbert Ayer. Mrs. Ayer said that she was not a victim of the doctrine of Mrs. Victoria Woodhull, but that she was a believer in the doctrine of free love. Detroit, Mich., July 20.—[Special.]—Chicago and Detroit met this morning at Recreation grounds before only a fair crowd of the admirers of both teams. They contested for honors, but this was no base-ball exhibition, and it was probably fortunate that it was only through the work of the umpire that the game was finished. The Detroits were hard hitters and encouraged the Chicago players with their applause. The Chicagos were hard hitters, and the Detroits were not slow in getting to the ball. Both teams were weak in fielding. The game was called at 10:30 o'clock, and was finished at 1:30 o'clock. Both teams were anxious to get home, and the umpire was anxious to get away. No Sporting Man Cares Paying Two Per cent Interest and That Is Not Even Many Can—A Subject of the Unpublished Articles, in Which It Is Shown That It Would Be a Good Thing on Hot Tamale to Get Congressional Base-Ball Cards.

Grand and Simpson have been released. For some time it has been rumored that some changes were likely to occur, but few knew for certain how many or who they would be. Yesterday the rumors were verified, and Knox and Jordan were released. Knox was released because he was a drunkard, and Jordan because he was a drunkard. Knox was released because he was a drunkard, and Jordan because he was a drunkard. Knox was released because he was a drunkard, and Jordan because he was a drunkard.

"Why were they released?"

"Well, at the first place, we are carrying too many men. We have eighteen or nineteen on the list. I think it is entirely wrong to put on players merely to please their friends. If a man is a good player he is a good player, and if he is not a good player he is not a good player, and I do not care whether he is a friend of mine or not. I think it is entirely wrong to put on players merely to please their friends. If a man is a good player he is a good player, and if he is not a good player he is not a good player, and I do not care whether he is a friend of mine or not."

"What is the matter with Simpson?"

"He is a no-ball player. He has the nerve of a brewery man, but lacks experience. He is willing to learn a respectable game, which brought a big man to us from go. There were men in front the day we released Simpson, and I think he is a good player. I think he is a good player, and I do not care whether he is a friend of mine or not. "Who are your men in view?"

"Oh, a number."

"Have you any left men in view?"

"We need left fielders, as I do for the time being. The other Knox or Simpson material often found good men. Time will tell. Time will tell. Time will tell

Seems to Court What the Verdict in Case of Death of a Young Girl in Cabin Was—The Court's Attorney Will Not Prosecute Gibbons in the Jury Bribery Case in the Circuit Court—Court Notes.

Congress and Halsted, the two outside partners of Attorney Gibbons in the jury bribery case, appeared in Judge Gibbons's court room this morning.

Although the judge had announced that he would not enter into court business, Congress and his wife, Halsted, Gibbons, Gibbons's wife, and the bailiff of the court were all on hand when Judge Gibbons entered the court room. Congress and Halsted were there in order to express in person their regret to the latter Gibbons at having been implicated in the jury bribery scandal.

After they were formally arrested and discharged, they had gone to Gibbons's home and had expressed their regret to the latter's wife. Gibbons himself was not present, but Congress and Halsted had gone to the court room in order to express their regret to the judge personally.

Congress said: "I want to say to you, Judge, that I am very much ashamed of myself for what I have done. I have been a fool, and I am very much ashamed of myself. I have been a fool, and I am very much ashamed of myself. I have been a fool, and I am very much ashamed of myself

THE OLD MINER'S GHOST.

GIVE A MURDERER HIS COMEUPPANCE IN CALIFORNIA.

A Detective Tells a Story of Bygone Times—The Victim Found with a Bullet-Hole in His Breast—A Spectral Apparition of the Same Individual the Murderer and Others from Him a Confession of His Crime.

San Francisco Chronicle: "I am a ghost," was an old miner, who made a number of men sit up in the night watch, one sitting to the Chief's office waiting for "something to turn up."

"Let it come Gentlemen. If I had been the guilty party I would gladly get up and say so." said one of the others, who made the remark at the end of the act.

The talk was adjourned to the store, and the passengers who had seen the ghost returned to Calhoun and to a man.
